COMPANY PROFILE

Language Inc. (est. 2004)

Language Inc. has been a proud supplier for more than a decade of translation, localization, editing, proofreading, copywriting and transcription services in all major European, African and Asian languages. We have recently joined the ranks of prestigious Language Service Suppliers globally by becoming compliant to the international industry standard EN15038 – the world’s only translation-specific quality standard. It defines the requirements providers need to meet in order to ensure their translations are of high quality. It effectively details best practice in our field.

Language Inc. offers various solutions for your language needs and have extensive experience in scientific, technical, financial, automotive, software, consumer, marketing, legal, medical, pharmaceutical, academic and educational texts. We take confidentiality, security and protection of your intellectual property serious and have therefore implemented various strategies to comply to our standards. The company’s server is secured by a firewall, backed-up off-site and all company offices have an electronic security system. Furthermore, all our linguists work on secure sites and document transfers are via an encrypted FTP site.
